Every student, every day, whatever it takes!
At Cambie, all students and teachers contribute to deeper learning through their unique gifts, life experiences, identities, values, attitudes, and perspectives. Thursday, September 30th is the first National Day for Truth and Reconciliation; it is important to reflect and remind ourselves that we all need to learn more about the history of Residential Schools and the mistreatment of Indigenous people in Canada.

This process of learning and reconciling the role Canada played in the operation of Residential Schools and the treatment of Indigenous people is important because it's about the basics of how we treat each other as fellow human beings. It is important we learn about this horrific part of our history because it reminds us about how we should treat each other and how important the relationships we build at Cambie Secondary School are.

At Cambie, our goal for the year is to “Listen and Learn” and engage our educational community in creating natural extensions that bind students and teachers in their interconnectedness, while creating new understandings and values. When we learn about our diverse cultures, when we listen and learn about each other, we collectively take responsibility for moving forward together.

In our school, in our classrooms, and in our community, diversity is a strength, inclusion is a right, and personalization is the way forward. Understanding and learning about times when diversity was not considered a strength, inclusion was not a right, personalization was not a priority, and when assimilation was the goal, empowers us to act when we see these injustices in our school and in our communities today and in the future.
At Cambie we are “Champions for students!”

Importance of Personal Learning Time (PLT)

Students are given choice and ownership over their learning, while staff facilitate by providing a supportive learning environment (sign-up required). The goal is for students to “self-direct” their time, to independently learn and pursue their passions with teacher support and mentorship.

Steps to success during PLT

- Organize your learning plan
- Develop a game plan for the week & the PLT days
- Set your priorities – What do you need to accomplish
- Sign-up online - Be prepared and ready to learn

Listening & Learning –Truth and Reconciliation Calls to Action

“Recommendation 17: We call upon all levels of government to enable residential school Survivors and their families to reclaim names changed by the residential school system by waiving administrative costs for a period of five years for the name-change process and the revision of official identity documents, such as birth certificates, passports, driver’s licenses, health cards, status cards, and social insurance numbers.
